State exams set for early high school grads

Proficiency examinations will be given throughout California on Dec. 20 and March 27 to enable interested 16 and 17-year olds to qualify for state certificates legally equivalent to high school diplomas.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles said Friday that the testing program, the first of its kind in the nation, offers young persons a new potential exemption from California's school attendance law.

Those passing the test and obtaining their parents' or guardians' permission will be able to leave school immediately, Riles said. The existing requirement, which continues in effect for all other minors, provides that young persons generally must attend school until they graduate from high school or turn 18, whichever occurs first.

The California State Department of Education has notified all county and district superintendents of the dates for the examinations, which will be adminstered at 100 centers. In nearly all cases no one will have to travel farther than 75 miles to take the test.

A Department spokesman said applicant information bulletins will be available at all public and most private high schools around the first of November. Application deadline for the first test is Nov. 28.

Each student applying to take the test will be charged $10. This charge is expected to pay the cost of administering the program, which is being directed under a Department of Education contract by Education Testing Service of Berkeley and Princeton, N.J.

Plans call for the test to be administered four times in the 1976-77 school year, and at least that often thereafter.

The proficiency testing program was established in legislation authored by State Sen. Arlen Gregorio, D-Menlo Park, in 1972. The test itself has been developed in the years since by the department, with the participation of local school administrators and field testing involving thousands of high school students.

The Department estimates that 670,000 California 16 and 17-year olds are eligible to take the examination.

Emphasis in the test will be on reading, writing, arithmetic and "practical" abilities, such as being able to balance a checkbook and fill out a job application. This is in line with Gregorio's statements of intent in authoring the test legislation.

Department officials estimate that the average high school graduate should be able to pass the test.

Gregorio has said he expects the proficiency program to appeal to two basic groups of young person, 1) those of average ability or above who do not work well in the conventional high school setting and are "borderline dropouts," 2) the "bright but bored" who may not have any problems in school but who would like to skip straight to college without waiting for regular high school graduation.

Gregorio's legislation provides that young persons who pass the proficiency test and leave high school may later reenter at any time before they turn 18. One argument advanced by backers of the legislation was that it might encourage high schools to make their programs more attractive to students in an effort to retain them and the state financial aid that goes with them.

Gravel pit site eyed by planners

Alameda County Planning Commissioners will sally forth Monday to inspect the site of a proposed sand and gravel pit just west of Livermore's Isabel Avenue.

Inspection of California Rock and Gravel Co. and Lone Star Industries' 154 acre site on the south side of Stanley Boulevard is part of the commission's monthly field trip.

The site has been approved for sand and gravel excavation, but tha firms must present an acceptable plan for reclamation of the area before the Alameda County Board of Supervisors can give the final go-ahead.

Under terms of the permit issued in 1969 the quarry must be extavated and reclaimed by 1995. The permit calls for review every five years and offers supervisors the option of changing its particulars.

Specific plans for ultimate use of the area have not been submitted, but the firms' drawing board analysis calls a 110 acre "T" shaped pond and a 44 acre land fill.

Planning commissioners and supervisors are under pressure to postpone granting the permit until adequate freeway access via the El Charro Road interchange is provided.

Pleasanton city officials have been supported by Livermore in their quest to force a public road between the interchange and Stanley Boulevard.

Kaiser Sand and Gravel and the Rhodes - Jamieson Co. now maintain a private road between the publicly financed freeway interchange and Stanley Boulevard. Other gravel firms use Pleasanton's First Street to reach I-680.

Pleasanton has argued "it is within the spirit (of the reclamation requirements) to expand the environmental inquiry to the extraction process itself."

The county planning department staff maintains the impact from the 154 acre digs is a "small part of the total extraction industry in that area," and that the additional acreage will not "really impact the truck problem."

Commissioners also will inspect a 4 acre site on the west h side of San Ramon Road. George K. Hanson has petitioned the commission to reclassify the area from single family residence (7,000 square foot minimum building sites) to a C-1 retail business district.

Commissioners will assemble at the 399 Elmhurst St., Hayward, public works building at 1:30 p.m. They are expected in the Valley about 2:30 p.m. at the San Ramon site.

Del Valle to reopen

The west shore of Del Valle Lake opens to the public tomorrow after being shut down for a year and a half. Visitors will be able to use new campgrounds ($2.50 a night), hike along several trails, swim at two new beaches and admire the concession stand that will open next spring. Day-use fee is $1.50, or $1 weekdays. Del Valle Regional park is operated by the East Bay Regional Park District for the state.

Redevelopment talks scheduled

PLEASANTON — A special meeting of the Redevelopment Agency will be held tomorrow night at 7 p.m. at the Justice Court, 30 West Angela St.

The agency staff, which is composed of members of the city council, will discuss the current status of the proposed $27 million, 45-year plan that recently failed to win support from the group it is most designed to help — the Chamber of Commerce.

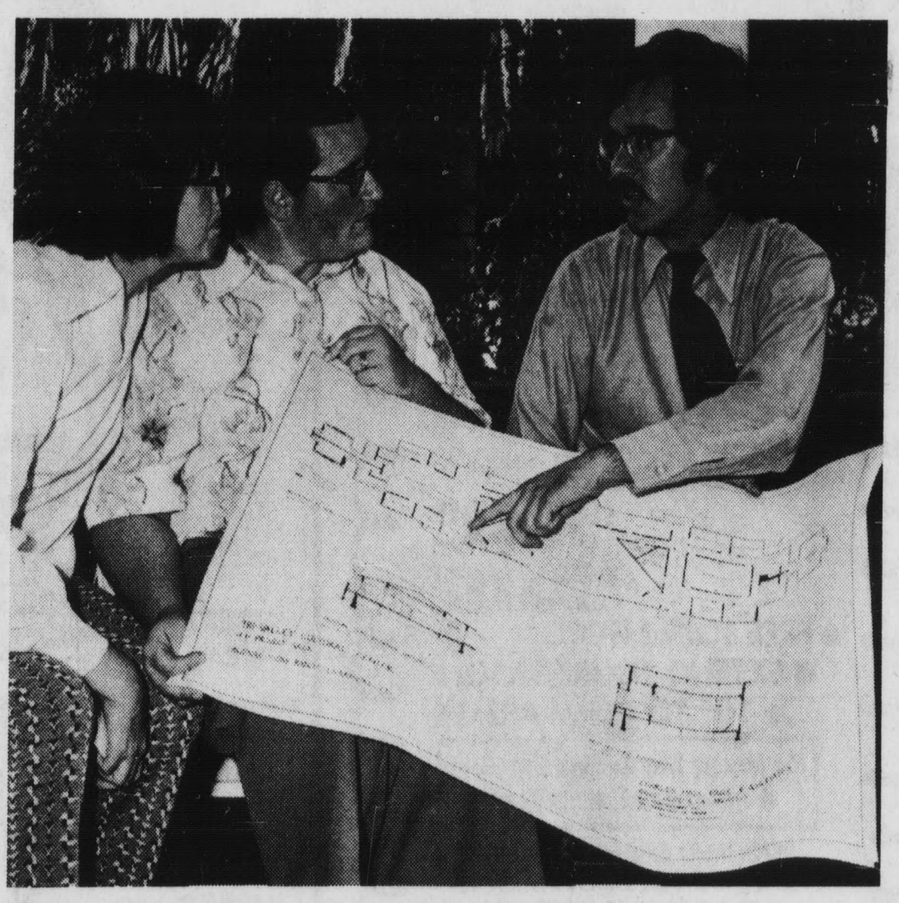
Members will discuss the views residents hold of the proposal, following several informational meetings they have held in different areas of the city. Most recently, a group of Angela Street, Harris Acres and Walnut Drive residents apparently convinced Councilman William Herlihy the plan isn't acceptable.

Mayor Ed Kinney, chairman of the Redevelopment Agency, will conduct the meeting,.

Following the Redevelopment Agency's special meeting, Citizens Against Redevelopment (CARD) will hold a progress report meeting to inform the citizenry of input they received in recent tours of other cities' redevelopment programs.

CARD has conducted tours of redevelopment programs in Santa Clara and San Leandro and talked to planners, businessmen, and residents affected by the renewel plans.

CARD will hold its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Veterans' Memorial Building on Main Street and Bernal Avenue.



Cultural hub plans

Looking at a sketch — which will be on display today at Festival '75 — of how an upper area residence hall at the old Del Valle Sanitarium could be converted into a city cultural center are Sally Bystroff, a long-time sanitarium and Buenas Vidas Youth Ranch campaigner, Bettie Hinde, member of the youth ranch board and chairman of the 4-H committee studying uses for the upper area, and Bruce Judd, an architect with the San Francisco firm of Charles Hall Page & Associates. The sketch, which is to give the community an idea of what the area can be used for and to get the public's reaction, was prepared as a donation by Judd and Page. Their drawing shows a 356-seat auditorium, two meeting rooms that could be used as galleries for art or sculpture displays or as a lobby, several small rehearsal rooms, some offices and dressing rooms, and plenty of wall space for displays. The preliminary and estimated cost of the project is $58,000 if materials and labor are donated and $138,000 if union workers are used to do the labor and all materials are purchased.

Teachers seek aide from state

LIVERMORE — Teachers have asked that a state mediator be called in to resolve the salary dispute between the Certified Employes Council (CEC) and Livermore Valley Unified School District.

A letter dated Friday, Oct. 3, from CEC Chairman and Livermore Educators' Association (LEA) President Allen Schell requests the school board to apply to the California State conciliation Service for a mediator to resolve the district/teacher differences.

Four reasons are listed in the letter:

- "Free to both sides — in the interest of saving school district money, this service would have no cost."
- "This is an impartial agency that would aid in solving differences in a cooperative manner."
- "This would be a time saving step."
- The new Collective Bargaining Law mandates this as one procedure in solving impasse."

Pizza night for Amador

PLEASANTON — Gay Nineties Pizza on Main Street will donate $1 to Amador Valley High School for every large pizza purchased on Tuesday, Oct 7 between 4 p.m and midnight.

The money will be used to help finance Amador's new weight room.

Persons buying a pizza should mention they want to donate for Amador Valley High's weight room.

Pleasanton joint session

City mulls growth

The Pleasanton Planning Commission and City Council will meet Monday night at 8 p m. in the Justice Court to discuss the projected population of the city and how it will affect various proposed projects.

The general plan called for a 1996 population near 76,000 but the state has indicated it will not fund any sewer or water capacity beyond that needed to support a population of 48,600.

The effects of this lowering of the population will be examined Monday and the two city bodies will discuss whether the state figure is desirable or even workable as opposed to the general plan total.

The city staff estimated that Pleasanton can save over $20 million in capital improvements by lowering the population but Richard Glenn admitted "We haven't done a very thorough economic analysis of the 48,600 population."

"It's really a very complex problem" he said, and Monday's meeting will hopefully give the staff some guidelines on how it should approach the reduction.

For example, the $20 million less in capital improvements could come in any number of areas. The preliminary staff recommendations list $2 6 million in park cutbacks, $3.4 million in water and sewage cutbacks, $16.25 million in street and road cutbacks and $1.9 million in government building deletions.

With a 1996 population of 76,000, city planners had estimated that nearly $40 million in street and road repair would be necessary between now and that date, but with a smaller population only $24 million would be required.

Where the funds would come from is still problematical, though, as even with the larger population figure only about half of the total $60 million worth of capital improvements originally planned for could be funded.

Without a solid figure to work from, the planners cannot determine how much the shortfall will be at a lower population.

One key aspect of any lowering of population is where the future growth will go. Lands previously designated for residential development will have to be set aside for other purposes or left as open space if the population is reduced substantially.

Of course, the city could opt for its original general plan of 76,000 residents, but then all water and sewage treatment facilities would have to be paid for by the city alone. The environmental problems in the valley have led the state and Environmental Protection Agency to set the limit on population that they will support with federal and state dollars.

The staff's proposed cutbacks in street extensions include: the widening of Foothill Road; construction of the Del Valle Parkway east of First Street; construction of West Las Positas between Hopyard and Santa Rita Roads; extension of Valley Avenue from Arroyo Del Valle to Bernal Avenue, including a bridge; Martin Avenue improvements; El Charro Road; and street improvements in the Happy Valley area.

As for parks, the reduction of the population from 76,000 to 48,000 would result in these proposed deletions from previous plans: Johnson (Bernal) Park access and improvements; Amador Valley Community Park improvements; acquisition of the McManus property for expansion of the Sports Park; acquisition of the Orloff property for expansion of Amador Valley Community Park; and improvements at both the proposed Meadowlark and Martin Avenue Parks.

Water and sewer cutbacks include: the proposed Bernal Reservoir; a proposed 20-inch water main along Bernal Avenue; an inter-tie line between Hopyard and Santa Rita Roads; and the provision of sewer service to the Happy Valley Area.

Government buildings deleted include: purchase of the downtown Post Office for police operations; the youth and community centers at Amador Valley Community Park; the proposed Vintage Hills Fire Station; and a portion of the new corporation yard.

Oktoberfest fun continues today

Oktoberfest, USA, continues today at the Fairgrounds in Pleasanton as part of a heavy schedule of events ranging from a rabbit show to a Citizens Band Radio Operators convention.

Among the groups planning picnics and barbecues this month are Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce (Heritage Days Barbecue Oct. 11), Le Sociale De Camaradiria, Inc. (Oct. 11), IEM Social Club, Ahepa (Oct. 12), Sears Roebuck and Co. (Oct. 19), California School Employees Assc, chapter of Amador School District (Oct. 19).

Other events slated for the Fairgrounds this month include an Aahmes Shrine band festival (Oct. 11), mini owners of America autocross (Oct. 12), Tri-Valley Royalaires Drum and Bugle Corps practice (Oct. 12), Aristocrat Trailer Caravaners trailer rally (Oct. 17-18), Pleasanton Ballistic Soccer Club dance (Oct. 18), Alameda - Contra Costa County 4-H Clubs dual rabbit show (Oct. 18), Porsche Club of America autocross (Oct. 18), Pleasanton Model Rocket Club rocket launchings (Oct. 18) and Sports Car Club of America autocross (Oct. 19).

Oct. 25 is the date of the Contra Costa-Alameda County Cattlemen's Association social, and the Pacific Poultry Breeders Association poultry show. The latter will continue on the 26th as will the Citizens Band Radio Operators of America convention and jamboree.

Driver training classes sponsored by the San Jose and Oakland police departments and the Pleasanton Recreation Department's dog obedience training classes will also be held.

Air service review set

LIVERMORE — An operations agreement with California Air Commuter Airline, which now plans to begin flights between the Livermore Muncipal Airport and San Francisco International Nov. 3, will be reviewed at the airport committee meeting Monday.

Committee members will meet at noon at the Tailwinds Restaurant for their monthly meeting.

Also scheduled for their consideration is a preliminary layout of a public relations brochure and post card of the airport, restaurant and Las Positas Golf Course complex; a financing feasibility report on additional T-hangars; and reports on an aircraft symbol at the transient parking area, airport striping, landing aids.

Festival '75

Children are not forgotten at Livermore's Festival '75 which continues today with free entertainment for the whole family featuring hundreds of local musicians, dancers, dramatists and artists. Adela Bonner will amuse children with the antics of the 'shy' wolf at the Laughing Cricket Theater II shows at 2 and 3:30 p.m. in Classroom 1-2 off the courtyard of the Presbyterian Church in Livermore.

BART at night 'by Thanksgiving'

WALNUT CREEK — BART night service will be in effect by Thanksgiving if BART Director James Hill's prediction is right.

At a BART community advisors meeting Wednesday, Hill was confident the money needed to begin the service will be forthcoming.

BART is asking for a $2 million allocation from the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC) to begin the service.

Last week MTC allocated its $18 million in federal funds to Bay Area transportation agencies, giving BART only $1 million for capital improvements. Until Sunday, when the governor signed Senate Bill 283, BART was not eligible for the money to be used for operations.

If MTC does not change its allocations, BART has the option to veto all projects funded by the MTC. This would mean all funds would be tied up untils BART change its vote or the matter is negotiated by another federal agency.

BART would not receive even the $1 million for capital improvements until the matter was negotiated. Hill is confident that other agencies, which will receive money from MTC, will put pressure on the commission to settle the matter quickly.

AC Transit and the San Francisco Municipal Railway are two of the major receiving agencies. Each will be gettingmillions of dollars from MTC to continue operations.

Hill predicts MTC will settle the matter within "three weeks". If BART receives an indication from MTC that it will receive funds, Hill says the board could go ahead and use BART construction funds until the MTC money came through.

Right now BART and MTC are at a standoff, with BART holding the option to veto.

"I don't want to sound threatening, but if the MTC doesn't reconsider, we will exercise one of those vetoes," Hill said.

"We're not rattling the saber at this point...but we do have a club we can use. We don't want to club them this year because someone can club us next year."

If the dispute goes to arbitration, it will appear before the Urban Mass Transit Administration. Hill seemed confident that BART would be successful in negotiations. Frank Herringer, the new BART chief, is the former head of UMTA.

Asked if Herringer still had some clout at UMTA, Hill said:

"How about that. I knew there was some reason for us paying him $68,000 a year."

Hill also said weekend service doesn't seem likely for a while.

"Weekend service is probably a year away at this point," he said. BART needs the weekends for testing and repair of the cars, he said.

Asked when BART will reach the capacity originally planned for it, Hill said:

"You're never going to see BART run the way it was designed to.

School site for Murray evaluated

DUBLIN — Murray Elementary School District trustees will get an update regarding the Dolan school site at Monday night's regular meeting

The board will convene at 8 p.m. at Donlon School, 4150 Dorman Rd., Pleasanton.

The Dolan site was intended to be for a junior high school with construction monies coming from a bond issue passed several years ago.

Board members were told in the past it would cost more money to convert a present elementary school to a new junior high than to build a complete new facility.

Dr. Donald Williams, superintendent of the district, has said a new school could be filled now. It was designed to hold 625 seventh and eighth graders and Neilsen is designed for 600.

The site is located about one block west of the Shannon Community Center.

Trustees will also get an upated report on essential learning objectives and open bids on the Kolb site.

A student council report from Donlon School officers, a budget control report, the 1974-75 consolidated application budget report and recognition of employee organizations is also on the agenda.

San Ramon schools

Teacher shows knowledge quest

SAN RAMON — When Betty Hawkins yearns for a leisure activity she sits downs and reads the classified ads or signs up for a night school class.

Which is indicative of this lady's quest for knowledge and honing of teaching skills so as to provide a better foundation for her 41 first and second graders.

Betty's path to Country Club School is not the usual story of a college degree, graduate work and then ever-increasing classroom responsibilities.

A nursing education graduate of Ohio State, a school famed more for derring-do on the autumn gridiron, Betty has alrewdy logged a solid career in the field of nursing, both as instructor and practitioner.

She came to the San Ramon Valley Unified School District as a school nurse 10 years ago and worked in that capacity until Guy Hockett, principal at Country Club, noted her expertise while she was serving as a district health education committee chairman.

Betty taught second grade initially but now has a first-second class and is assisted by Phyllis Carvalho, a credentialed teacher who works half-time.

But prior to entering classroom teaching, she cnmpiled a lengthy career in public health education.

She was an assistant director of nursing at Children's Hospital in Columbus, Ohio and served as a public health nurse and school nurse in that city.

After coming west, Mrs Hawkins taught in the nursing program at San Jose City College for two years, worked at the Veterans Administration hospitals in Livermore and Palo Alto and was relief evening supervisor at the Livermore facility. She served as coordinator of home services while in Palo Alto.

Impetus for going into classroom teaching was provided by one of her sons who had diffculty concentrating and in mastering math at the time.

"He was my spur to teaching and as a result I have a great deal of interest in children who have more than average problems with learning."

The boy, now in the eighth grade and attending a school in Orinda, has overcome his difficulties, according to Betty.

A goal-oriented teacher, Mrs. Hawkins says the main thing is to teach the youngsters to become independent learners.

At her urging, a tutorial program was setup four years ago in which fifth graders are paired with her second-graders to improve the latter's reading skills.

The fifth graders benefit, she says, by development of a sense of responsibility.

"In all of the four years, very little has gone wrong. We've had to change maybe two youngsters because of a personality problem," she adds.

The program was worked out with the help of another teaching friend, Pamela Copeland. "We presented the program at a workshop sponsored by the Contra Costa County Dept. of Education a couple of Saturdays ago," she adds.

In this second-fifth grade reading program, Mrs. Hawkins and her fifth grade counterpart try to match-up the youngsters by personality boy-boy, girl-girl.

She recalls an instance where they once paired a bright older boy with a bright younger girl. They proceeded to ignore each other at the outset but the boy, later, became very solicitous ....even to the point of pulling out the chair for his little partner to sit down.

Mrs. Hawkins, in addition to her classroom duties, is school representative to the district math committee.

"I didn't like math when I was in school so I decided after getting my credential to get on all those committees dealing with the subject."

A staunch supporter of the school and appreciative of the efforts of fellow faculty members and administrators, Mrs. Hawkins believes Country Club is in a period of slight transition, reflective of the community it serves.

Amador High asks smokey questions

The Amador Valley Joint High School District is asking all those residing within the district to complete a questionnaire to do with legislation recently passed concerning smoking on high school campuses.

Community input is being asked for by the Campus Smoking Legislation committee studying the ramifications of Senate Bill 171 which will soon become effective.

Enacted into law, this bill will give local school boards the option of determining whether or not smoking will be allowed on the high school campuses in their district. They will also be responsible for establishing the rules, should it be permitted.

The committee, established by the Amador district board of trustees, urges everyone to complete the questionnaire and mail it to Neil Sweeney, District Educational Center, P.O. Box 130, Pleasanton 94566. These responses will greatly assist the committee in making their report to the school board.

Livermore officials win softball battle

The final score of the annual Pleasanton vs. Livermore City Councils and staff softball game Thursday evening was 20-8 with the victory going to Livermore.

"We whipped 'em. WE WHIPPED 'EM," gloated Livermore Mayor Pro Tem Dale Turner the day after Pleasanton went down in defeat.

Turner kept a careful account of the game's statistics but those numbers will not appear here because (at least according to Turner) Pleasanton Councilman Roger McLain snatched them away and burned them "because he was so ashamed of his pitching and he didn't want any evidence around at all."

Relying on his memory to recall some of the more glorious moments of the game, Turner credited Livermore players with the following: a "sparkling defense" by Public Works Director Dan Lee who made some "fantastic catches" while playing center field; Mayor Archer Futch was involved in a triple-play; Turner himself batted a home run; Councilman John Staley hit a triple and put Livermore ahead for good, and Dave Harris of Zone 7 was an "outstanding" pitcher for the city.

Pleasanton apparently is protesting Zone 7's participation with the Livermore team.

"We claim foul play," said a bitter Larry Miller, assistant to the Pleasanton city manager, the morning after. "They put in a big league pitcher on us. That was an attempt to make up for a dismal showing for the past 15 years."

History has it that Pleasanton WHIPS 'EM every year.

Asked if Pleasanton planned to file a formal complaint against Livermore, Miller answered darkly, "We're not sure what our actions are at this time."

A special night for Dr. Collins

He is among those few who can still be reached at midnight, to answer that urgent problem of health or life, - even if it requires a house call.

His work week is never less than five days, and often seven, uninterrupted by such 20th century fringe benefits as golf, or sailing on the Bay. His one hobby is purebred cattle and fine horses, and he gives to them the same energetic zeal that he has always given his profession.

It is because they know all this. and know also the man, that several hundred of his friends will gather on October 13 to pay tribute to George Washington Collins, M.D.

Dr. Collins came to Pleasanton after service in World War II. The town of less than 1000 residents could then barely support the services of himself and Dr. Harold Shanks. Because the only medical facilities available to them were the modest offerings of St. paul's Hospital in Livermore, both doctors were required to perform in full measure as "general practitioners." Their office often the first and only call for the patient in need of attention.

As the demands and the sophistication of medicine grew, George Collins grew too. He was elected by his peers as Chief of Staff for Valley Memorial Hospital in 1969, and was honored that year also by the American Academy of General Practice for his work in cancer detection.

But Dr. Collins is perhaps best known, among those who care, for his response to those who need his skill, no matter when, and regardless of their ability to pay. "If you're sick, you need to see a doctor now, not two weeks from now," he is fond of saying.

There are others who will be there to honor George Collins as a rancher, as one who appreciates fine stock, and who has helped countless numbers of young people to gain that same appreciation.

This week, George W.Collins is in Chicago for a rare break from his local routine. He is being honored as a Fellow in the American Academy of Family Physicians.

"We thought this would be a good time to tell the doctor, and his wife Freda, how much they are appreciated," a member of Dr. Collins staff explained.

So they are gathering at Hap's Restaurant on Monday evening, Oct. 13 at 6 p.m. Reservations, at $5 per person, may be made by calling 846-2252 between 9 and 5:30 p.m.

Free band concert to highlight Cultural Arts Festival today

LIVERMORE — Two Livermore High School bands will perform today in the Cultural Arts Festival in the Presbyterian Church hall.

Beginning at noon, the wind ensemble will play "Stars and Stripes Forever," "American Patrol," and "Omega Lambda Chi."

The jazz ensemble will follow at 12:30 with "us," "Chickenscratch" and "Pocahantas." Michael Ward is directing both bands.

Admission is free to all comers. The church hall is conveniently situated in the thick of the festival, which will take place around the Carnegie Park - Recreation Center area just south of the downtown shopping center.

Livermore High's well - known marching band will be traveling to Cupertino Saturday, Oct. 11, to march in the parade at 11 a.m. Livermore has been selected first alternate at the half-time competition to be held at 7 p.m. in Cupertino. This competition is sponsored by the Cupertino Tournament of Bands, and is the first of four competitions the marching band may attend this fall.

Chaperones are needed for band events. Any adult interested may contact Mike Ward (447-3112.)

Senior Boyd Tarin is drum major this fall, with junior Dave Caraveo assistant drum major.

Band members are sporting bright green-and-gold band jackets this year, purchased individually. The Bandettes are selling seat cushions at home football games. for $1 each.

Beginning Oct. 4, band members will be selling cards for two weeks. Funds raised by these means go toward entry fees, travel and awards.

Christian Womanity Institute offers new approach to women's liberation

By REINA WHITNEY

Pat Driscoll, looking like one of her own finely chiseled Madonna statuettes — gracious, warm and feminine — beams with goodwill.

Together with her friend, Mary Rose Oborne, she is co-founder of the Christian Womanity movement. They coined the word "womanity" to integrate "woman" with "humanity."

As the Christian wife of Walnut Creek Attorney Frances X. Driscoll, mother of eleven and talented artist, she experienced a crisis a few years ago. She explains she was "both sympathetic to and resentful of Women's Lib, pleased yet unsure of my role as a woman." And as a loyal Catholic, she was nonetheless discouraged by some of its spokesmen, needing more confirmation of basic values.

She teamed with her friend Mary Rose Oborne, herself mother of six, to work toward a solution. What developed was a feminine focus, "Christian Womanity." Essentially it is a commitment to Christ, an appreciation of Mary, a dedication to Life on all levels: physical, emotional and spiritual, and a working toward mature personhood.

She strongly emphasizes that they are not a "fertility cult" but want to focus on women as a protector of life. Their aim is to simply offer an identity as "The New Woman" — life-centered, open, responsive and fulfilled. Following their successful program for adult women held last year at San Damiano Retreat Center in Danville, they again have scheduled a three-day Christian Womanity Institute October 14, 15, and 16. All persons interested in sharing and enjoying a Christ-centered focus on feminism are welcome to attend any or all of the workshops planned for the three days. The institute has already reached national magnitude with reservations coming in from as far away as New York.

One of the panel presentations, Thursday Oct. 16, will have representatives from feminist organizations — Build the Earth, the American Association of University Women, Christian Womanity, Fascinating Womanhood, and the Office of Women's Affairs of Berkeley's Graduate Theological Seminary. They will try to reach a conclusion on "What do we have in Common?" followed by a question and answer period.

A variety of personal programming is available at the institute. Full room and board for three days and nights at San Damiano Retreat House will be provided for $60. Participation in all three days of the workshop from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., with lunch and dinner costs $30. Sign-up for all three days from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with lunch, is $20.

Also provided is a sign-up for any one of the three sessions, lunch and dinner, for $15 per day. Pre-registration is necessary as space is limited.

For a Christian Womanity Institute brochure or more information, call Betty Thompson 820-4292 or the Family Life Center, 935-3561.

Although both Mrs. Driscoll and Mrs. Oborne, co-founders of "Christian Womanity" are non-professionals, they claim eighteen children, eight grandchildren and two husbands between them have given them enough experience to claim a certain amount of expertise in developing their subject matter.

Mary Rose's avocation is the study of Scripture, while for twenty years, Pat has been developing a creative focus on Mary as Pregnant Madonna through writing, lecturing and sculpturing. They both have lectured on a local, state and national level.

In 1973 they attended the International Ecumenical Conference on "The Blessed Virgin Mary in the Bible" in England as the only American laywomen. Most recently Pat Driscoll was declared a first-place winner, in an international prayer contest sponsored by St Joan's Alliance in honor of the United Nations' International Women's Year. Women from Britain, the United States, India and several African nations submitted entries. We reprint the prize-winning prayer with Pat's permission:

Pat Driscoll, co-founder of Christian Womanity, holds her newest version of her now famous Pregnant Madonna, which she calls: "Woman of Faith." By making Mary obviously pregnant she wished to symbolize maternity, Christ-centeredness, union-with-God, growth, new life and promise.

Prayer of a liberated woman

Almighty God, we proclaim your greatness, We thank you for all creation. We praise you for making male and female in your image and equal in your sight.

Although through centuries we have come to be regarded as inferior, even as misbegotten males! We thank you that at last we are learning to claim the value with which you gifted us from the beginning.

Dearest Jesus, you have restored our dignity! You chose to come into the world through a woman, Mary. How wonderful that you glorified the feminine function of childbearing in her mothering of you — the God-man! Further you honored pregnancy for all time when, from Mary's womb, you sanctified your yet unborn cousin, John, who leaped for joy inside his mother, Elizabeth.

Women are BLESSED to be the persons through whom human life is transmitted and nourished. For this power and purpose we praise you.

But we are grateful also that you raised us to dignity far beyond physical motherhood. The Gospel tells of the woman im the crowd who cried out, "Blessed is the womb that bore you and the breasts that nursed you."

And you, Jesus, acknowledged the compliment, Yea! But then you emphasized an even greater value of woman: "Rather blessed are they who hear the word of God and keep it."

By those words you made clear that women are not only child bearers, but rather are fully human persons capable of hearing and responding to God's word.

We thank you for your beautiful relationship with women ... for treating all of them with respect as equals even though in so doing you violated social customs. Thank you for your gentleness with the woman taken in adultery, for your loving response to Magdelene's repentance, for your compassion to poor widows.

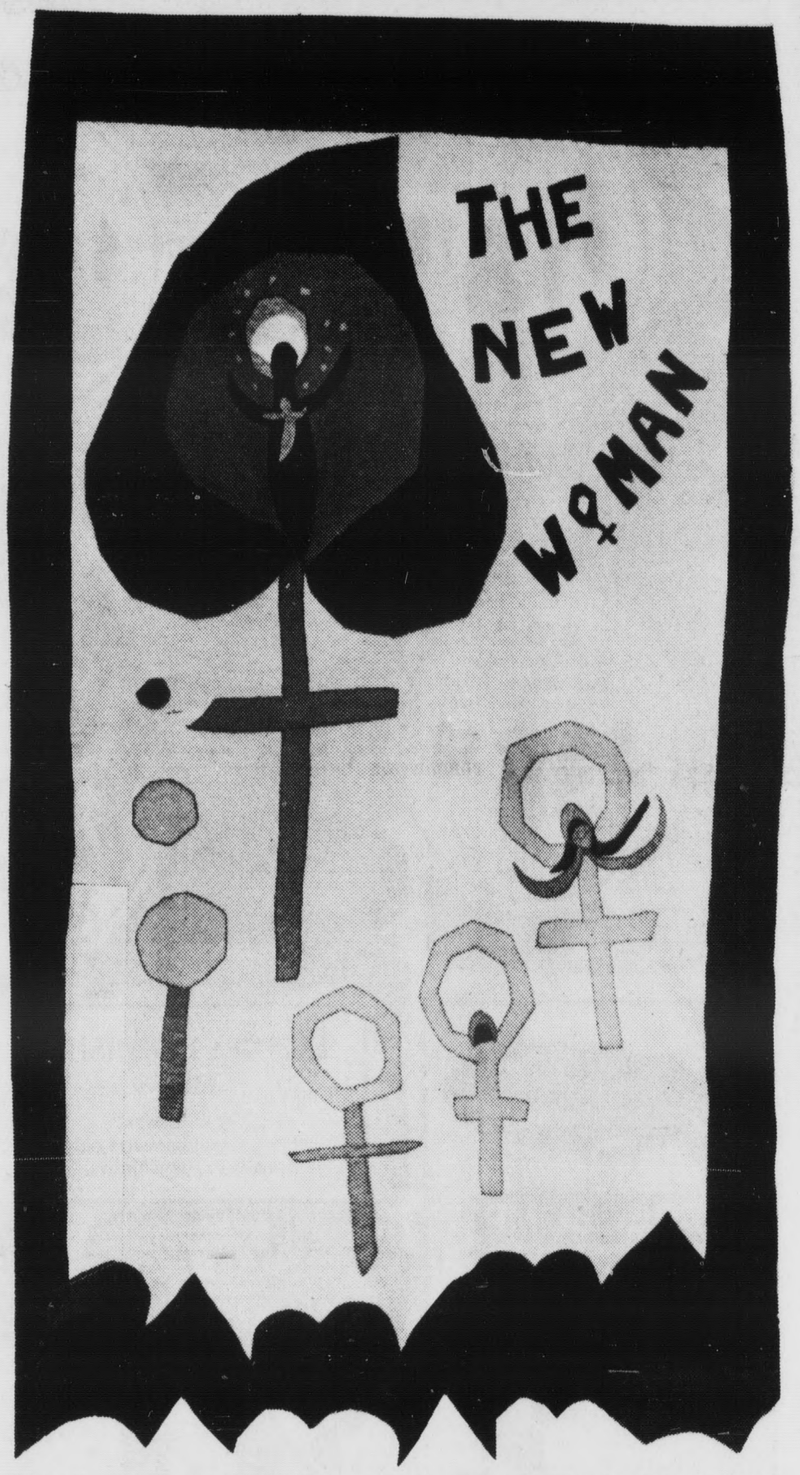
We appreciate your defending Mary's right to set at your feet — like the male disciples — instead of having just to do the "female serving" as Martha was doing.

How wonderful that it was to a despised Samaritan woman that you first revealed yourself as Messiah! How surprising — that the only recorded witness for the defense at your trial was a woman — Pilate's wife! How significant that you commissioned women (who could not bear legal witness) to be the official witnesses to the greatest event of your entire career — your resurrection from the tomb!

Thank you for liberating us.

And now, as we awaken from our centuries-long sleep to realize our God-redeemed dignity, may we, like Mary, claim our blessedness. May we — with one great universal womanly soul — also magnify the Lord.

Let us, from this International Women's year onwards, accept and respond to our new freedom in Christ. Let us rejoice. He who is mighty has done wonderful things for us and holy is His Name.



"Christian Womanity" has a life-celebrating symbol which simplifies the VEA (Spanish for "Look!" or "That you may see") concept. The female sign (circle surmounting a cross) surrounded by a heart or flame of loving service and enclosing the bud of life. 'Woman thru love grows a new heart and she bears fruit."

Versatile vegetable: zucchini makes soup!

Here is Boots McLean's delicious answer to the zucchini explosion which annually pleases and perplexes home gardeners.

Otherwise known as "Spud Bug Sally," Boots is one of three grandmothers in Livermore who planted a vegetable garden for the first time this year with abundant success. Boots was so pleased with the picture of their garden, which appeared in the Oct. 1 edition of The Times, that she sent this recipe as a thank you.

ZUCCHINI SOUP

- 3 lbs. zucchini
- ¼ lb. bacon, fried and drained
- 1 10-oz. can beef consume
- 3½ cups of water
- 1½ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. monosodium glutamate (optional)
- 1 tsp. garlic salt
- Chopped chives or onions

Slice zucchini into ½ to ¼-inch pieces. Combine zucchini and all other ingredients in large pot and bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and allow to summer one hour. Cool. Put entire mixture in blender and blend until smooth. Soup may be packaged and frozen. Ham hocks may also be substituted for bacon.

For safe walking

Livermore's a safe town for pedestrians — and a grateful California Automobile Association, represented locally by George Wills (right). yesterday gave Police Chief Ron Lindgren a plaque for safety. There were no pedestrian 1973 or 1974 and there have been none so far this year, according to Wills. (Times photo)

Home & School officers

Harvest Park Home and School Club officers are planning activities for the coming school year, beginning with a membership drive that has already enlisted over 300. They will conduct an art appreciation program beginning in early November for fifth and sixth graders. Volunteers will show reproductions of art masterpieces and give backgrounds on each of the works. Officers for the club as they go "up, up and away" are, from left, Margaret Sherinian, historian; Laura Maxwell, president; Bette Hartley, vice president; Joan Lawson, treasurer; and Dale Hudson, school principal and second vice president. Also serving will be Betty Piper, secretary, and Orley Philcox, auditor. Parents wishing to join should call Mrs. Maxwell at 846-5956. (Times Photo)

Victory for Murphy

Santos Ranch decision delayed

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Valley supervisorial representative John D. Murphy won a round with fellow Alameda County Supervisors yesterday when the board agreed to continue one-acre zoning on several parcels adjacent to Santos Ranch Road.

The question of whether or not to rezone nearly 60 acres along the steep, winding road has been bantered from county planning commissioners to the board then back to the commission before Thursday's final resolttion before the supervisors.

On a motion by supervisor Joseph Bort, the one acre classification will remain in effect, but county planning director Bill Fraley must "notify the board of any activity" for planned development on the sites.

While chairman Fred Cooper expressed fears of a future "maneuver" into subdivisions, Murphy argued the board had placed the one acre zoning on the property in 1964 and that the owners, James Colwyn Gibbs, O.C. Olesen and William Ostle, had made commitments based on the classification.

Cooper abstained in the final vote, claiming he would "feel fine" if the area were annexed to Pleasanton and development depended on the city.

The area falls within Pleasanton's sphere of influence, but is outside the city limits.

County ordinances require connection to existing sewer lines if those lines are within 200 feet of the property. Except for one lot along Foothill Road and hence within the 200 foot radius, septic tank permits could be issued on the remaining parcels, supervisor Tom Bates pointed out.

According to Murphy, Pleasanton's plans call for "open space" on slopes greater than 25 percent, and "some of that land looks like the wall over there."

"We're talking about $100,000 homes, not subdivisions," he added.

Supervisors earlier rejected the planning department's suggestions for five, 10, 15 and 20 acre lots.

Thursday's final resolution passed with three favorable votes and supervisors Cooper and Charles Santana abstaining.

Cooper said he still had reservations about sewer connections and the prospects of subdivision.

Parent-administrative meetings scheduled

DUBLIN — The first session of the 1975-76 schedule of parent-administrative council meetings will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in Donlon School.

Several people are planning to attend from each school's parent group.

This will provide an opportunity for each to exchange information with parents and administrators from other schools.

Agenda for the first meeting includes, 1) purposes of the council, 2) saving old Murray School, 3) report on staffing and enrollment, 4) state adoption of textbooks.

Funds needed

Hawaii goal for Gael grapplers

DUBLIN — Fund raisers have been planned towards the goal of sending the Dublin High School wrestling team to the St. Louis High School Wrestling Tournament in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The team will leave from San Francisco on Dec. 26 and return Jan. 4.

Each student will be responsible for the cost of his food and lodging. Cost of the flight alone will be $250.

Amador Valley Joint High School District trustees have approved participation by Dublin students in the trip and tournament.

One of the initial businesses to come forward to help raise funds for the team and Mat Maids is American Family Cleaners in Pleasanton. The establishment is offering to give $1 of every $5 worth of cleaning to the Dublin High wrestling team's trip to Hawaii. The offer is good through Dec. 10.

The school has also announced that the annual Back-to-School Night is slated for Tuesday, Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the school's Little Theatre.

The second-annual Dublin High flea market, sponsored by the Dublin Gaels Boosters Club, will be held Saturday, Oct. 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the high school football field.

Admission is 15 cents.

Purpose is to raise funds for the girls' and boys' athletic departments. Spaces rent for $4 and more information on booths may be had by calling Jean Dent, 828-2673, or Marvin Inns, 828-2238.

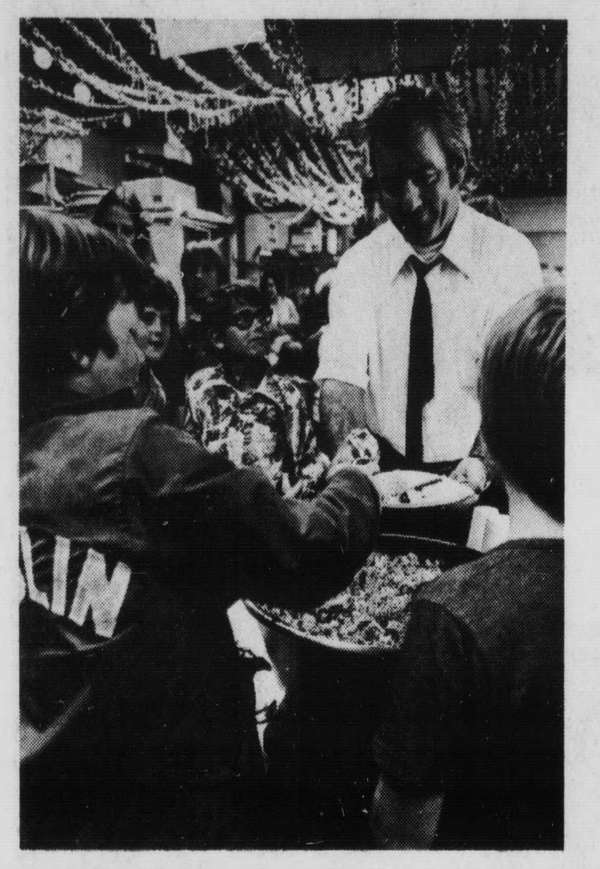
Ole! A happy and educational day for all!



Exotic food fare

A culture is taught by doing

DUBLIN — The fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Dublin School completed a month's study of Mexican culture Friday, and topped the celebration with a sumptouous feast of native Mexican food and traditional pinanta-breaking ceremonies.

Beginning at 9 a.m., the food was purchased and the cooking began. Tortillas, Mexican rice, grape juice, and Mexican wedding cake, which turned out to be small and very delicious cookies, delighted the capacity crowd.

After the meal, which all 152 paying customers found to be to their satisfaction, the students adjoned to the playground to witness the breaking of four pinatas — shaped into a turtle, a soccer ball, the Pink Panther, and Bruce, the star of "Jaws."

Contestants were blindfolded, given a baseball bat and then allowed to swing freely at the candy - laden paper mache figures stuffed to the brim with candies.

Suspended by a rope from a basketball hoop, Teacher Sheri Anderson bobbed the treasure up and down while various able-bodied and hungry students took their turn to swing wildly trying to break it open.

Mcs. Anderson learned such a task could be hazardous and began administering an oath to each slugger, promising to stop when she asked — made difficult by the uproar of the crowd egging him on.

After each mache figure was successfully demolished, a mad rush to gather up every candy ensued.

Everyone present agreed the celebration was a success, and, more importantly, a little bit of Mexican culture will not be forgotten for a long time to come.

Candy's inside!

Tiant stops A's on three-hitter

BOSTON (AP) — Ageless Luis Tiant baffled Oakland with a brilliant three-hitter and the Boston Red Sox took advantage of a record four errors by the A's to easily take a 7-1 victory in Saturday's opening game of the American League playoff series.

Tiant, who has been pitching professionally for 16 years, used every weapon in his vast arsenal to keep Oakland off balance. He mixed speeds the way an artist blends colors, twisting around in his unorthodox style and even occasionally looking at the sky as he wound up. The outcome was a masterpiece.

Meanwhile, the experienced A's displayed a terrible case of playoff jitters in the first inning when errors by third baseman Sal Bando, left fielder Claudell Washington and second baseman Phil Garner put two runs on the scoreboard for Boston.

Tiant protected that slim margin until the seventh. Then, the Red Sox, helped by an error by center fielder Billy North that set an AL playoff record for errors by one team, added five more runs in a rally climaxed by rookie Fred Lynn's double that scored two runs.

Oakland scored its run in the eighth with the help of two Boston errors; between them, the two clubs committed a playoff record seven errors.

Boston's first-inning flurry started with two out when Carl Yastrzemski lined a single to center field. Cleanup hitter Carlton Fisk banged a grounder to third and it caught Bando backing up. The ball broke off the A's captain's glove and rolled into the left field corner.

With two out, Yastrzemski was running but unfortunately for the A's left fielder Washington wasn't. With third base coach Don Zimmer waving frantically, Yaz never stopped until he had scored Boston's first run.

When Washington finally recovered the ball, his weak throw killed any chance the A's might have had of getting Yaz at the plate. Fisk took second on the play and in a moment, Zimmer was waving wildly again. This time, it was Garner's turn to kick the ball around.

Lynn had sent a simple grounder at the second baseman but he booted it and Fisk scooted home to make the score 2-0.

Armd with that lead, Tiant was almost untouchable. The 34-year-old right-hander with the herky-jerky motion mowed the A's down, blending fast balls and changeups into a melange that kept the Oakland hitters off balance all afternoon.

He didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning when Joe Rudi led off with a blistering line drive off Tiant's glove. Tiant recovered the ball and missed getting the runner by only an eyelash.

The single didn't seem to faze Tiant, who struck out eight and walked three. He got Billy Williams on a pop foul and Bert Campaneris on a fly ball. Then Fisk helped him out of the inning, leaning into the boxes behind home plate for a brilliant one-handed catch of Garner's foul ball.

Oakland didn't have another hit until the seventh when Reggie Jackson opened with a line single to center, which Lynn bobbled, allowing Jackson to take second.

But again, Tiant was not bothered. Working from a stretch with a motion in which he flicks his glove a dozen times before delivering a pitch, he eased his way out of the jam, getting Gene Tenace, Rudi and Williams on fly balls.

Williams' shot was a long drive to left center that Yastrzemski took with a leap at the wall.

That must have been too close a call for the Red Sox. In the bottom of the seventh, they broke the game wide open with a flurry of doubles capped by Lynn's two-run shot.

Dwight Evans opened the seventh off loser Ken Holtzman with a double to left. He moved to third on Cecil Cooper's sacrifice and scored a moment later when Rick Burleson ripped another double down the third base line.

That finished Holtzman with Jim Todd relieving for the A's. But the move backfired as designated hitter Juan Beniquez hit a single up the middle, scoring Burleson to make it 4-0.

When Paul Lindblad relieved Todd, Beniquez stoled second and then third. Denny Doyle followed with an easy fly ball that North dropped for an error, allowing Beniquez to score. Fisk followed with a single and then Lynn doubled off the left field wall for two more runs and a 7-0 lead.

The rash of errors hit the Red Sox in the eighth inning and cost Tiant his shutout. First shortstop Burleson kicked Bert Campaneris' ground ball and then, after pinch-hitter Jim Holt doubled Campy to third, first baseman Cooper booted North's grounder and Campaneris scored.

That gave the A's runners at first and third, but Tiant wasn't budging. He struck out Washington and Bando and finished the A's off by getting Jackson on an easy ground ball.

In the ninth, Tiant completed his day's work. After walking Tenace to lead off the inning, he got Joe Rudi to fly out to Lynn, forced Tenace at second on Billy Williams' grounder and got Campaneris to pop out as the partisan crowd of 35,578 at Fenway Park roared.

NAPA — This is the off season in professional golf, if there is such a thing on a schedule that commences at halftime of the Orange Bowl, and draws to a close in the final 30 minutes of "A Charlie Brown Christmas."

Maybe "slack period" would be a better description. Anyway, it is the time of year when golf's big names retreat to desert oases, where they will count up the season's winnings. And all the young lions, who roared but didn't bite during the long summer, become puppy dogs. They chase after the bare bones remaining at the Taylor Textile Invitational played on courses like Singing Yucca Golf and Country Club.

By now, Trevino and Nicklaus and Miller have earned enough to insure their place among the nation's top 60 corporations for the next fiscal year They should be home conglomerating while the rest beat around the fairways trying to meet expenses.

This season, however, the stars are delaying the autumn vacations for a week to play in the Kaiser International at Silverado.

To the chagrin of some tall, tanned, hungry 23-year olds.

The Kaiser used to be one of those welfare tournaments where they divvied up a minor league purse among the kids. The top money winners, and all the fans, stayed home to watch the World Series.

But a little date shuffling and an infusion of prize money have finally transformed the Kaiser. You wouldn't mistake it for The Masters. But it no longer resembles a sattellite to the Doral Open either.

This is the season everything fell into place for the Kaier Jack Nicklaus said he felt obligated to tournament director Vern Peak, so he entered. Lee Trevino came because he probably wanted to play under skies that weren't hooked into a generator Gene Littler is wrapping up one of golf's most remarkable comebacks following cancer surgery, and he wasn't about to lose the momentum.

And Johnny Miller, well, he can't go to the store for a loaf of bread without being noticed this week, so what else was there to do?

All of the Big Four winners have come to Silverado, Nicklaus (Masters and PGA), Lou Graham (U.S. Open), and Tom Watson (British Open).

Arnold Palmer is missing, but he's probably out interviewing for an airline pilot's job so everyone will forgive him.

In fact, a lot of players probably wish Arnold had taken a few of his friends along. How are they going to pump new blood into the game when the same old bullies start showing up in the glorious Napa foothills? If they'd wanted this kind of pressure they could have gone to Augusta or Carnoustie. But Silverado? This is where they were going to pocket some cinch prize money, then run over to The Christian Bros. and spend part of it on vintage Cabernet.

Well it turns out that only the big guns are sipping the wine between rounds. The rest are marching grim faced to the practice range. They've had bleachers set up there all week, because that's where the drama is

All the desperate young men are searching for that little chink in the swing. So many, that they're lining up at each end of the range. They swat golf balls at each other, perhaps subconciously hoping to drill one past a man's ear. Maybe that will give him something to think about during the next day's play.

The caddies hunch down behind their bosses, trying to detect hidden flaws. The wives sit quietly next to the husband's golf bag. They may offer encouragement, but then they need it too. They're wondering if they should have ever left Springfield. At least there were three bedrooms and a color T.V. at home. The all-night rides and the Motel 6's get drearier and drearier.

The range master sits on a banquet room chair and sips a Brown Derby while golfers and caddies fish into their pockets, slipping another bill from the money clip for practice balls.

Kaiser week is one of anticipation for guys like Rod Funseth and Jim Weichers. They live along the oak-studded Silverado courses, and if ever they had a chance to win a tournament, this should be it.

Jim has done well enough in his career to afford a rustic multi-level wood and glass home along the South Course. His wife wall-papered the backyard fence with a 20-foot banner reading; "Yeah Weichers" on opening day.

Wind blew down the sign, and Weichers blew himself out with a first-round 74.

There were no signs for Funseth, and less to cheer. He withdrew after the first day.

Johnny Miller bounced along jauntily, performing for the neighbors and pointing out some of Silverado's subtleties to his opponents. His young, tow-headed son popped along, more interested in telling spectators about the catepillar he once captured, and how it was transformed into a butterfly, than in his father's pursuit of a paycheck.

The veterans are enjoying a fine weekend in Napa. It is an idyllic spot to conclude another season on tour. They can to retire to one of the posh condominiums or cottages along the Silverado fairways, and drink to their fairytale existence.

But in the growing shadows of golden hillsides and giant oaks, the kids are wondering why their elders just didn't stay home.

Gaels miss PAT attempt, bow to O'Dowd Dragons

There was never a doubt Dublin High would play for the victory Friday night when it pulled within a point of Bishop O'Dowd in the final minute and confronted that most antagonizing of football decisions — the one, or two - point conversion?

Dublin went for the Big Casino and wound up with phttt in a 20-19 loss to the Dragons. Quarterback Cliff Johnson's sideline pass was tipped away at the goal line with 1:14 remaining, and the Gaels stumbled to their third consecutive defeat.

"Hell no, we weren't going to kickm" coach Wayne Re said after the game. "We wanted the bleep bleep win. Who wants a tie?"

Certainly not the Gaels, who couldn't have vindicated a night of mistakes mistakes with an outcome equated with sisterly kissing.

Actually they were fortunate to have the opportunity for victory in those closing seconds. Dublin fumbled six times, losing two, and threw four interceptions The Gaels played themselves right out of a 13-0 halftime lead. It was all baffling to Re.

"We've done this for three straight games now," he said. "Fumbles, interceptions and penalties. Maybe we should paint the ball on them, or use glue, or maybe we could sew it to their jersies We've got to come up with something, because if we play like this, we'll Strong defense, solid running by fullback Jim Boulware and tailback Jon Batchalor, plus a big break care of the Dragons, pushed Dublin ahead by two touchdowns at halftime.

Bishop O'Dowd rallied behind ubiquitous Dom Pontrelli in the second half, giving Oakland Catholics a bona fide Italian idol to cheer.

He scrambled his way to 82 rushing yards on 11 carries, scored O'Dowd's second touchdown, and intercepted two passes as a defensive back. Pontrelli completed 6-of-13 passes at quarterback for 53 yards He also returned a punt 76 yards to set up a touchdown.

"He's just an elusive kid. and there was no easy way to bring him down," Re said. "One time he planted his foot to cut back, and our whole defense froze to see which way he was going. By the time they found out, he was gone."

Dublin fullback Boulware managed to get "gone" a couple of times, finishing with 146 yards in 12 carries. He scored in the first quarter on a 56-yard draw play, and on a six-yard scamper in that final minute to set up Re's non-decision.

Batchalor scored in the second quarter, running it in from 16 yards away.

The Gaels completed a miserable 6-of-21 passes, for 66 yards. Junior Sean Mays played the first three periods at quarterback, and was relieved in the final 12 minutes by Cliff Johnson. It was Mays' first start of the season.

"We're just trying to find combinations," Re said of his quarterback switch. "The passing has been very inconsistent. At least it looked like Cliff was moving the team well in that last quarter."

The teams played nearly even football statistically, Dublin out-gaining the Dragons, 277-270.

O'Dowd was seldom forced to punch it out for touchdowns, however. It's longest scoring march was a 54-yarder to open the third quarter.

Pontrelli's punt return set up the second Dragon score, and a Dublin fumble at its own 35 preceded the final one.

The Gaels actually harbored fairytale hopes in the last 45 seconds, holding O'Dowd at midfield on downs. Johnson passed Dublin into Dragon territory, but with five seconds left, Pontrelli picked off a desperation heave at the goal line.

Defensive end Ron Loder had a big night for Dublin with a sack of Pontrelli, and an interception on an attempted screen pass. Nose guard Kevin Dugan plugged the middle admirably. —Mike Zampa

Mats top weak Cal

Promoters of the television game show "The Magnificent Marble Machine" claim the program features the largest pinball machine in the world. After what happened yesterday afternoon in Livermore, don't be too quick to believe them.

For, in the second half of Granada High School's 49-0 win over visiting California, with senior quarterback John Walden playing the role of the Pinball Wizard, the Matadors kept the scoreboard whirring like a two - games - for - a - quarter arcade special, ringing up 35 points and 206 yards.

Walden's performance in the Granada offensive avalanche, which included a precision four-pass touchdown drive, kept alive the Mats' two-quarterback system.

An enigmatic start by Walden and excellent spot relief by sophomore Steve Robison inspired coach Don Couch to use each for half of yesterday's game.

"Both quarterbacks did a good job," he said, "they're reading the defenses a lot better." Couch made no decision on the basis of the contest, though.

"I don't know if we'll alternate them every other series or quarter, but we'll still be switching off," he revealed.

The Mats broke the scoring ice with 8:55 to go in the first half after a 6-play, 52-yard drive which included a 32-yard run by Robison, a nine-yarder by Vance Rushing and an nine-yard pass from Robison to Kevin Gosney.

Steve Jaeger went over from less than a yard out for the six. Rich Malia, as he did following each of Granada's seven TD's, kicked the extra point.

The next Mat scored was handed them. Cal quarterback Tom Woodmansee was sacked, fumbled the ball, and Tim Nalty recovered at the Grizzly one. Again. with 5:22 left in the half, Jaeger went off right tackle to score.

Cal's Frank Sousa lost the opening kick-off of the second half on a fumble to Granada's Steve Carpenter to light the fuse of a Mat scoring binge that eventually blew the game up in the Grizzlies faces.

Taking over at their opponents 26, Granada needed two 13-yard runs, the first by Walden and the scorer by Jaeger to expand its lead to 21-0 with just 43 seconds gone in the half.

After a penalty-filled Cal possession ate up most of the period, Granada quickly scored again. A six-play drive, including runs of 16 by Jaeger and 40 by Walden sent the Mats 71 yards to a score which came on a 16-yard sweep by Rushing.

Granada forced the Grizzlies to punt on the following series, then struck again, this time on Walden's showcase drive.

John first hit split end Don Smith for a pair of quick gains, got into striking distance on an 18-yarder to Rushing, then tossed a sideline pass to Malia, who ran the better part of the 15-yard scoring play.

Forty-three seconds later, Granada made it 42-0.

On their next play from scrimmage after the kick-off, Cal completed a pass, only to fumble and see the Mats Tim Duke carefully pick it up and dash 23 yards for a TD.

Joel Strickland scored the last touchdown of the game, diving in from less than a yard out with 5:42 to play. Bob Duncan set up that score with three carries for 34 yards on the drive.

Granada, coming off a 3-1 pre-season, is idle for two weeks before opening its EBAL season at Dublin, Oct. 17. Of the Gaels, Granada coach Couch said simply, "They'll be the best team we've played."

Viking rally beats Dons

Any person who left Friday night's Amador - Lynbrook football game in Pleasanton at halftime and returned in time for the final gun would not have believed his eyes.

He would have seen an Amador team, which led at halftime 7-0 (and could have been leading by much more) fall victim to errors and a timely Linbrook defense and as a result, lose its third non-league game in four tries, 30-7.

The game was simply two different halfs Amador, using an awesome running game, drove 56 yards in six plays after the opening kickoff for their only touchdown of the night. Fullback Ron Worley bulled over from the one for the score. Quarterback John Sevo kicked the PAT. Big play in the drive came on a 22-yard run by Sevo which brought the ball to the Lynbrook one.

Amador had two other drives stall in the first half. Lynbrook seemed disorganized and physically beaten in the first period. They had only 23 yards total offense by halftime.

However, the second half was all Lynbrook. The Cupertino school took advantage of a Ken Carney punt fumble midway through the third period to score their first touchdown. Viking quarterback Dave Halliday dodged and swerved for 13 yards and the Lynbrook score with 1.54 left in the period. The pat kick was good and the two teams were tied 7-7.

Timely passing set up the next Viking score early in the fourth period. Halliday hit end Frank Baroni for 15 and 18 yard pass completions in the drive. Halliday then turned to his elusive running ability to score the go-ahead TD on a 10-yard run up the middle. The PAT kick was again good and Lynbrook had the lead for good. 14-7.

After that, the roof caved in on Amador. The Dons had to pass to catch up. Viking defensive back Dean Corbella intercepted a Sevo pass and returned it to the Don 36. A running play lost two yards but a 22-yard run by Mike Baroni brought the ball back to the Amador 16. Five plays later Baroni scored on aone-yard run. The pat was good and the Vikings held a 21-7 advantage.

Viking Kevin Uselinger intercepted another Don pass with less than two minutes left in the game and returned it to the Don four. Brent Olthoff scored the final Viking touchdown on a one-yard plunge. Halliday then threw a two-point conversion pass to Mike Debbas on a fake pat to conclude the scoring.

Worley was the leading Don rusher with 51 yards. Sevo added 48, most of them coming on keepers. Mike Baroni led the Vikings with 102 yards on the ground.Halliday had 60 rushing and three pass completions for 40 yards.

The Dons will have two weeks rest before entering East Bay Athletic League competition against San Ramon Oct.17 on the Wolves' field.

Kane star in SJ loss

BERKELEY — Rick Kane plucked Cal's "rubber band" defense late in the fourth quarter yesterday, but the Bear offense snapped back like a slingshot to overhaul San Jose State, 27-24.

Before 32,788 at Memorial Stadium, Kane soard into the end zone from a yard away with 3:10 left in the game to give the Spartans a 24-20 lead.

But Cal fought back, moving to San Jose's 46 yard line with 1:08 to play, aided by a fine third-down catch by running back Chuck Muncie.

Then quarterback Joe Roth spotted Wesley Walker on the post pattern at the goal line, and the Bears escaped with their second win in a row.

The once lightly-regarded Spartans dropped to 3-1, with two of those victories coming against Pac-8 opponents.

For Kane, who gained 89 yards on 20 carries to lead San Jose, it was his most bitter college football defeat. Of course it wasn't a new sensation for the Duck out of muddy waters from the University of Oregon.

"We lost all the time up there," said Kane, who transferred to San Jose last spring after two seasons at Eugene. "People just take it for granted up there. They stop caring by the middle of the season. I talked to some friends in Oregon last week, and they say the team's given up already. They haven't won a game yet."

Kane arrived in San Jose seeking a change from the dismal Oregon attitude, and style of running that had him constantly pounding the middle of enemy defenses. With the Spartans, he is using his near-sprinter's speed in wide-open fashion.

His 89 yards was the high for San Jose runners, the second week in a row he's led the team in rushing.

"I've never been coached like this in my life," Kane said in the gloom of San Jose's locker room. "That's why I came here."

Kane sat on the bench for the first quarter-and-a-half, yielding to Marv Stewart.

He first appeared with 7:56 to play in the second period, and proceeded to languish against Cal's elastic eleven. Kane had just 28 yards rushing at halftime, and fumbled once to set up a Cal field goal and a 10-10 tie at intermission.

At the start of the third quarter, a pass intended for the former Amador Valley High School star was intercepted by Cal's Greg Ricks at San Jose's 34 yard line. It set up a lead touchdown for the Bears.

Adding further misery to a painful start, Rich was the blocking back for the Spartan punt team which had two kicks blocked.

"They gave us a different look on the punts," Kane claimed. "We've got to work on that."

Rich began probing Cal's defense in the fourth period, carrying twice for 18 yards in a 48-yard touchdown drive. Spartan quarterback Roger Profitt scored on a rollout with 7:46 to play.

An interception by James Ferguson gave San Jose the ball at its own 32 yard line with 6:29 left in the game, and that's when Kane really stretched the rubber band. Almost to the breaking point.

He carried six times in the 68-yard scoring drive, picking up 35 yards. Rich's carries accounted for two first downs, the last one a 12-yard sweep that set up San Jose with first and goal at the one.

On the next snap, Kane climbed over a pile up at the goal line to score the go-ahead touchdown.

Asked later if he objected to sharing playing time with starter Stewart Kane said there were no beefs.

"I'm carrying 20 times a game," Kane said; "man, that's enough. I want to hang around here for awhile.

"Marv and I did the same thing last week against Stanford," Kane pointed out. "One of us can run until we get tired that way, then the other can come in."

Freshman linebacker Rayford Roberson of Dublin saw limited action for San Jose State on the kickoff and punt-return teams.

Hilmar topples Foothill, 30-6

Despite scoring their first touchdown of the season the Foothill Falcons took a decisive 30-6 defeat at the hands of Hilmar Friday night on the winners' field.

The home team took a quick 14-0 lead in the first quarter on runs of 24 and 86 yards by Butch Gray. Hilmar added another touchdown in the second quarter on a five-yard pass. Hilmar also converted a two-point conversion to give themselves a 22-0 lead at halftime.

The sole Foothill score came in the fourth period on an eight-yard run by quarterback Kevin Henderson. Henderson had set the touchdown up with a 46-yard pass to Rick Rosenbauch. Two penalties also added the Falcon drive.

Henderson completed 12 of 20 attempts for 140 yards. He had just one pass interception and called a fine game. However the Falcon rushing attack was held to 10 yards in 20 attempts.

Hilmar rolled up over 300 yards on the ground. Gray finished the game with 175 yards rushing. Tony Trujillo,and Kent Hall and Jeff Elkins all played fine defense for the Falcons.

San Ramon rally edges San Jose

San Ramon High came unglued in the second half and rolled to an impressive 38-24 victory over San Jose Friday night at the Wolves' stadium.

The win, which upped the Wolves' record to 2-2 also trimmed San Ramon's roster down two lads. Glen Martin, a six-foot, 200 pound linebacker, coverted into a tailback Friday night, suffered an injury to his neck. John Arnaudon, the junior quarterback who last week was named Parker-Robb super sports, was belted on a late hit near the sidelines. He has a bruised left arm.

It was a smooth offensive show by the Wolves as they gained 487 yards, total offense. They used the veer-wishbone offense to perfection, rolling over the outmanned San Jose squad.

Bruising fullback Mike Bowles ran for 136 yards in eight carries, an average of 17 yards per run.

Quarterback Steve Ellis scored two touchdowns, and threw for 96 yards on four of five attempts. Arnaudon passed for 80 yards including a 28-yard scoring strike. Charlie Brice, like Arnaudon, only a junior, caught all four Ellis passes.

Enjoying a 16-12 lead after the first half, San Jose saw the Wolves unleash their offensive machine. Arnaudon drove the Wolves 53 yards which culiminated in a 14-yard run by sophomore Paul Fisch.

Two pass interceptions led to other Wolf scores. Fisch scored his second touchdown of the game to on a two-yard run in the fourth period to conclude the Wolf scoring.

Bowles also had a 86-yard yard touchdown run called back because of a penalty.

Emmett Davis led the SJ rushers with 72 yards after running for over 150 last week. However, the SJ club picked up over 200 yards through the air for a total offense of 293 yards.

Where newspapers don't win prizes

You are being asked this week to honor your friendly newspaper publisher. The slogan so modestly chosen by the print media for National Newspaper Week is "Spirit of Freedom." It is similar to the self-adulation we afforded ourselves in past years, in the first week of October.

The news media might be better advised to take this opportunity to recite our failures. Just as we aspire to being exposer of all other sins, in all other areas of public service, you would think that the nation's press and news commentators would be eager to reveal — in just one week of each year — the long list of our own mistakes. It would make fascinating reading, you can be certain.

We might, for instance, remind the people that the great journalistic expose' which came after Watergate was no where matched by any loud warning in advance of those "flagrant abuses of presidential power." If Nixon was so wrong, so long, then how is it that not one major news outlet was able to give us that story — until six months after a bungled burglary by some third rate White House crooks?

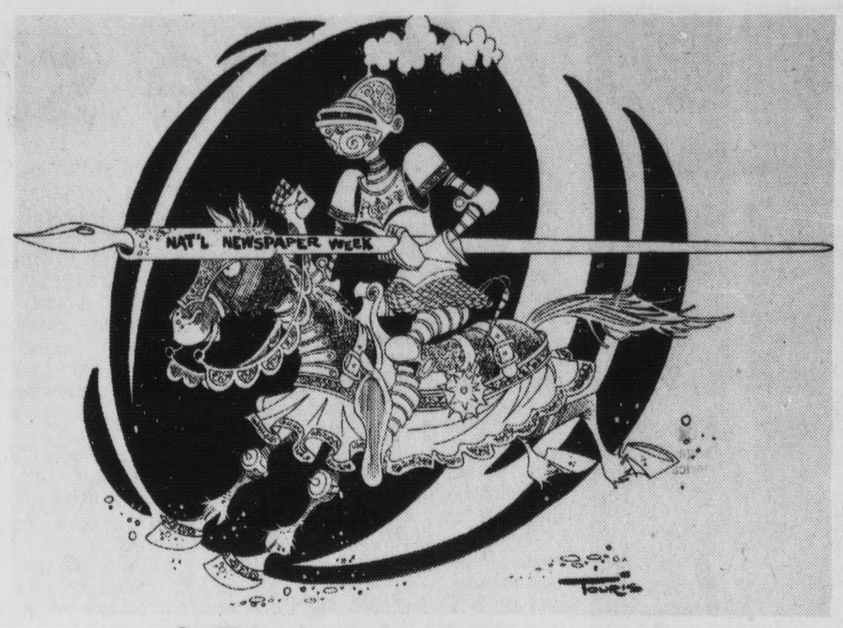
And what other "flagrant abuse" is brewing now, to be disclosed in late 1976, but to which we are not to be privy until after the fact, and after the next Pulitzer Prize for fearless reporting is given?

Last Thursday night CBS-TV finally got around to confessing that network's abuse of an employe's rights and his livelihood during the "McCarthy witch hunt" era. But what CBS will not tell us is that the company will make more profit from that two-hour televised bearing of its soul than it has ever paid to the man they decimated, and to whom they doled out a paltry $8000 for the right to produce this million dollar "television blockbuster."

And we suspect there will be more money made from "the Watergate movie" and the several books being authored by and for those participants, than could be realized by reducing Richard Nixon's pension to zero, and then fining him five million dollars.

Those who report the news are therefore not too different from those who make the news, and those who reap great profit from the dramatized version of other's failures.

We are all but players on the stage, the poet has said. The real prize goes to those who understand the size of that stage, and their own small part upon it.



Still looking for those windmills

round the town

Did you ever wonder .... ?

Assuming the national debt will soon reach one trillion dollars, who will they put in charge of counting that encumberance? And, figuring he/she ticks off one number per second, it will take he/she 31,668 years to reach the trillion mark.!

Or how about this ....

If all the hot dogs consumed in these United States in one year were linked end to end (BEFORE we eat them, silly) the resulting chain would extend from here to the moon, and back. The required Alka Seltzer binge would turn the Atlantic Ocean into one gigantic fizz.

Or, did you know that .....

A Jack Ass should be four years old for mating, can reproduce through the age of 15, and will yield up to 30 females for each male heir?

All this, and a great deal more, is contained in the 1976 Old Farmer's Almanac. The publishers were good enough to send me an advance copy of their Bicentennial Issue, and it is therefore expected that I give them a word or two.

Actually, it is my pleasure. No publication crams in so much fascinating, and useless, information within its busy pages as does the Farmer's Almanac. It is a trivia expert's treasure chest of knowledge.

How Marie E. MacIntyre made $3.50 in coal keep her fireplace going for almost 300 hours. That report uses up all of pages 138 and 139.

There follows four pages of puzzles, and then a quiz (the answers are upside down on the same page) asking "Who were the shortest and tallest presidents?" "What president had false teeth made of ivory?" "How many presidents have been arrested while in office?" (Hint: Last question is not answered with initals RMN.)

There are of course a load of facts on the weather, past, present and in years to come. You can determine exactly how the weather will be in Montreal for the 1976 Olympics ... rain on half of the 16 days of that big show, but on only 3 days will there be over one inch of precipitation. (No prediction however as to whether the Canadian unions will allow those games to go forward as scheduled.)

California winter (1975-76) will be cooler than normal with December and January frosts ... heavy January rain south. Through May it will be sunny and dry. Above normal rain in June.

We can expect no rain until the 17th of November. The Almanac has spoken. But then stand by for some "devastating downpours" at periods thereafter. Can't be more specific, sorry.

To rid a room of smoke, soak a towel in water, wring out, and swish around the room. Does not make clear whether it is you, or the towel, that should do the swishing. However, another item on page 187 offers a hint ...

If you choose to drink an alcoholic beverage and avoid a hangover ... before drinking, take one gram injection of vitamin B12 followed by one gram tablet of effervescent Vitamin C and two vitamin B complex. Eat well and eat oily foods and drink, at the very least, half a cup of corn oil.

There follows further instructions for after the party ("down a pint of orange squash, two alka seltzers with tablespoon of sugar") and then a great deal more junk next morning ("dose of mucaine, visit the bathroom and then beat a raw egg, two tablespoons of honey, three teaspoons of instant coffee, two ounces of vodka and blend"). If it doesn't work, don't complain to me, just write the Almanac.

Not all the information is geared to astrological and astronomical nuts, or them that's got the gout. (On that latter lament, Harry Highpockets invites you to write immediately for his true-life experience. "How I battled the demon in my body, and won.")

There is also reading of a more urgent nature. Like the fascinating report which begins on page 168. "The Man Who Made Gasoline from Water." I recall first making his acquaintance on the prairies of Canada. During the depths of the great slump. He promised his product would "let you make gasoline by simply going to the well, plus a drop or two of my magic potion." He came to town driving horse and wagon. Somehow, the inconsistency of it all never dawned on us.

I am happy to learn that he is still alive and well. Still turning water into gasoline. On the pages of the Farmers Almanac.

Thank God there is in this troubled land a publication dedicated to matters of personal well-being, for the body and the spirit. And more knowledge than the mind of man might dare absorb.

For how else would I have known that George Washington had choppers carved by a Frenchman from rhinoceros ivory? Or that President Franklin Pierce was arrested when he ran down a little old lady? That case was dropped, too.

Rights of the press

The Federalist Papers themselves contain little discussion of a Bill of Rights because, as Alexander Hamilton stated in The Federalist No. 84, "the Constitution is itself, in every rational sense, and to every useful purpose, A BILL OF RIGHTS."

Hamilton further argued: "I would go further and affirm that bills of rights, in the sense and to the extent in which they are contended for, are not only unnecessary to the proposed Constitution but would even be dangerous. They would contain various exceptions to powers which are not granted; and on this very account, would afford a colorable pretext to claim more than were granted. For why declare that things shall not be done which there is no power to do?"

His concern seems to have been justified.

Justice Potter Stewart, quoted in the Washington Post for November 11, 1974: "The cases involving the so-called 'right of access' to the press raised the issue of whether the First Amendment allows government, or indeed requires government, to regulate the press so as to make it a genuinely fair and open market place for ideas."

"What signifies a declaration that 'the liberty of the press shall be inviolably preserved'? What is the liberty of the press? Who can give it any definition which would not leave the utmost latitude for evasion? I hold it to be impracticable; and from this I infer that its security, whatever fine declarations may be inserted in any constitution respecting it, must altogether depend on public opinion, and on the general spirit of the people and of the government. And here, after all, as is intimated upon another occasion, must we seek for the only solid basis of all our rights." Federalist No. 84

Has it proved to be true that the written words of the Bill of Rights have been essential to the maintenance of "republican liberties?"

Are First Amendment freedoms intended to protect an individual's right to express himself, or are they intended to protect society's right to know? Is there a difference in practice, rather than in theory?

Does the Bill of Rights protect citizens against the arbitrary exercise of power by agencies such as the Internal Revenue Service, where the proceedings are administrative, not criminal?

It now appears possible for a citizen to see almost all of the records that are kept about him by government and commercial agencies. Should all information be available?

In order to protect the innocent, should the guilty be free to use the mails and the telphone to commit crimes?

The Constitution is often described as being based on a "realistic view of mankind." Do we still adhere to 18th-century perceptions of the nature of man or have our definitions changed?

Should the Bill of Rights be rewritten?

The week in retrospect

Bicentennial spirit

This week saw the completion of the third week of the Bicentennial Essay Contest sponsored by the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Pleasanton and Amador schools.

The number of essays turned in through the first three weeks of the four-week set of weekly contests has been very disappointing.

Whether the word (of the essay contests) has not been aired sufficiently in the schools or whether there is just a general antipathy at sitting down and writing about our country, I don't know. Likely it's a combination of the two reasons.

There is certainly no lack of writing talent in this valley. Nor is there any dearth of painting, musical or acting talent amongst the young people. It is quite the opposite.

That is why we proposed Friday that the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee ask the Chamber of Commerce to consider extending the essay contest for a few more weeks if not until next spring, making the contest awards on a monthly basis.

It is hoped that the chambers in Livermore, Dublin and San Ramon, along with the respective school districts, will follow the example of the Pleasanton chamber people, as well as the city's bicentennial group, and get school youngsters involved in essay and poster contests.

The name of the game is "involvement."

I became involved Friday after sitting on the periphery of Bicentennial news and events for lo these many weeks.

After learning of the many Bicentennial events and plans from Charlotte Severin and her committee, one can't help but get the spirit.

A Heritage House Tour is scheduled this afternoon from 12 to 5 p.m. No matter where you live, this is a "must see" tour.

Tickets will be available at the Kirschbaum home, 303 Neal St. (one of the homes on the tour), Wayside Park (adjacent to First and Neal Streets) and Century House.

Sandy Sinclair is Heritage Tour chairman and Marty Weidekamper, tickets chairman.

Those taking the tour are invited to join the Pleasanton Rainbow Girls in Wayside Park for nominally-priced light refreshments.

The tour would be a great way to round out the day after taking in Festival '75 in Livermore.

But the Bicentennial festival group has much, much more planned for the weeks and months to come.

A community band is being organized and a New Year's Eve party, with participants invited to come in costumes of earlier eras, is planned.

The band could evolve into a permanent community band with concerts-in-the-park on Sundays and summer evenings. The idea is a great one and should be taken up by the Bicentennial groups in Livermore and Dublin as well.

Pleasanton's Bicentennial musicians will play for the Heritage Days Barbecue next Saturday at the Fairgrounds. This presents an opportunity for residents to hear some of the best musicians in the valley and also bring the kids along for a steak barbecue. Tickets for those also wanting to eat are available through the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

While at the Bicentennial meeting Friday, we were fortunate enough to see a slide show on the many flags that have flown over this country in its 200-year history.

It is a presentation that every adult and child in the valley should see. If your civic group or club wishes to see this approximately 15-minute slide show, call Mrs. Severin, the Bicentennial Festivals Committee chairwoman, or any of the committee members such as Bev Hamlin, Sandy Sinclair, Marty Weidekamper or Barbara Joan Smith.

Kallam comments. . .

"We're not going anywhere until we dedicate ourselves to winning.

"Before we start winning, we're going to have to start developing some character. The kids just aren't paying the price to win."

Now, who do you think said that?

Vince Lombardi? No, he's dead.

How about Bear Bryant, the coach at the University of Alabama, where football is a multi-million dollar business and the players are literally professionals? Try again.

Maybe a slightly warped high school coach who feels that winning football games should be the most important thing in a 16-year old's life? Sorry.

Those little pearls of wisdom were printed in the Wednesday, Oct. 1 edition of a rival newspaper and were attributed to the coach of a Pop Warner Association football team.

Pop Warner is for 14-year olds and under and was originally designed so that kids could go out and play football and have a good time.

Like the CIA, Pop Warner has gotten a little too big for its britches.

How could any sane man tell a 13-year old kid that he should dedicate himself to winning a Pop Warner football game? I mean, wouldn't it be better to dedicate oneself to becoming a good person, maybe? How about just being a better player?

Well, no, those are pretty heretical ideas. After all, with one team sporting a 44-page yearbook with Woody Hayes-type picture of the four-man coaching staff, it's obvious that having a good time has long gone out the window.

Now, it's down to winning's not everything, it's the only thing.

Any man who could seriously say that the most important thing in a 13-year old's life is winning a football game should not be allowed around children. Such ideas are only marginally acceptable at the high school level and only get meaningful when football becomes a business, as it is in college and pro ball.

Hopefully, most Pop Warner coaches realize that the game is supposed to be fun and that kids learn that it is important to work to reach a goal.

But to imply that a 14-year old lacks character (or call him a coward, as I heard one high school assistant coach scream at a 16-year old) for not thinking football is the be-all and end-all of existence is nothing but a monumental lack of sensitivity coupled with an almost equally monumental lack of intelligence.

Sound and Fury

Walt Hecox

About the time I had decided Evelle J. Younger could not be all bad and was wondering how I could combine an apology to the lovely lady who brought me the quote from Daniel Webster and a little plug for the Daughters of the American Revolution with a piece berating the owners of handguns, Norm Volponi was brought to mind.

Volponi is one of the oldest friends I have in these Indian Summer warmed walls and a fine fellow despite our continuing difference.

I use the singular because, while we have other areas of contention I figure he will recover from most of his errant ways in all cases except one.

Volponi will, forever and a day, believe it is his God given right, and that of all other Americans, to own and use firearms.

Most folks know I am of a different frame of mind.

Too often I am reminded that the Constitution of the United States provides for the right of citizens to bear arms.

There happens to be a copy of the Constitution of the United States on my desk, a situation of which I am sure the lady who handed me the Daniel Webster quote would approve, and I put it to use after talking to Norm.

Amendment II of the constitution states clearly that, "A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

There appear to be several definitions and interpretations of that amendment. As far as I am concerned, only one is possible. Clearly it refers to the rights of the various states to form a militia and equip it with the proper arms.

Nowhere in the constitution is a citizen given the right to keep a high powered popgun in his closet and use it to knock off the neighbors' cat whose serenades may not seem attractive to the laddie holding the pea shooter but are tender love songs to the tabbie down the block.

The right to bear arms is more than questinable in the eyes of this old man.

We are required to pass a test in order to retain our drivers' licenses at regular intervals.

Yet, the way things stand today, Sara Moore, Squeaky Fromme, Bill Harris and the Manson gang can march down the street, buy a gun and not be guilty of breaking the law until they have massacred a passel of people in Bel Air, taken a pot shot at the President of the United States or held up a bank.

Those , whether you like it or not, are all ancillary rights of all gun owners.

Worse yet, conpletely unknowledgeable owners of firearms are allowed to march out into the marshlands, woods and praries each year and, under the guise of shooting waterfowl, upland game, big game or what the hunters call varmints, clobber each other, themselves, Farmer Browns cow and a few inviting directional signs along the way.

Drive along Dougherty road sometime. Or Tassajara. I will challenge anyone to tell me they have not seen signs paid for with our tax dollars which are pockmarked and perforated by a variety of missles originating from B-B guns, 22 caliber short rifle shots. and high velocity weapons.

Those perforated signs are also the ancillary rights that go along with the right to bear arms

With all of these obvious disadvantages, a rifle or shotgun can be detected and controlled to a great degree. Sara Moore and Squeaky Fromme would have had a tough time pulling a Springfield .06 from their pockets and taking a pop shot at the President.

The handgun is more insidious. It has only one purpose on the whole, and that is to kill men.

Turn on your television set tonight and watch one of the blood and guts thrillers.

Chances are ten to one that the prime weapon in the shootout scenes will be a handgun.

Turn back the years to Hoot Gibson, Tom Mix, Bill Hart and Gary Cooper of yesterday. There they are, settling their disputes with handguns.

It was a handgun which put a bullet in the back of Wild Bill Hickock, which snuffed out the life of Abraham Lincoln, which murdered Robert Kennedy and which Irene Mansfield used to kill her husband's nurse.

"If I were king the first thing I would do was destroy every handgun the United States," State Attorney General Evelle Younger told the California Peace Officers Association at their annual meeting in Fresno yesterday.

Perhaps someday we will find someone with the guts, the dedication and the integrity to do just that .

There is, as I see it, absolutely no redeeming feature in handguns. Yet the "Saturday night special" is the most easily available weapon in the United States.

Younger. unfortunately, after his forthright statement, added that he is not king, nor is he proposing such "unrealistic action." To me that action, or something close to it, is more than realistic, it is necessary in these United States

I know, Norm. You say it is the man that kills, not the gun.

Tell that to a man who has just absorbed an ounce of lead from the muzzle of a .45 automatic at close range.

Handguns have been called equalizers in their day, but there is nothing equalizing about them. They are the handmaidens of death, the stepmothers of the underworld and the keys to the gates of hell.

This nation will be one step closer to the freedom we were promised when their use by private citizens is completely outlawed.

All of which is just one man's opinion.

I hope the lady who bought the Daniel Webster quote will forgive me. And that the Daughters of the American Revolution will be patient.

I just had to get this off my chest, It is, dear ladies, what I believe to be my patriotic duty.

For Sunday, Oct. 5, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You may make some bad decisions today, but second thoughts will reveal your errors. Rectify your mistakes promptly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's not likely you'll be too motivated today to do things for others unless you see something in it for yourself. If there is, that's another story.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) When among friends today be careful not to exaggerate. You could tell a tall tale that might come back to haunt you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your judgment is usually quite keen regarding things of a domestic nature, but today you're likely to make some moves that aren't too bright.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You could be a trifle forgetful today. If you have anything important to take care of, make a note of it or ask another to remind you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be careful you don't spend funds before they're in your bank account. Some cash you're counting on could be delayed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There's a strong possibility today that you'll optimistically read more into what others say than they intend. Hide those rose-colored glasses!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Keep close tabs on anyone who performs work or service for you today. They could do it incorrectly or overcharge you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Some responsibilities that should be taken care of early will be left till the last minute. However, you'll get them in under the wire.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful today if you're involved in a competitive situation. Those you go up against may be holding more trump cards than you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) What you say today will be quoted later. Be certain you have all the facts before passing information on.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You could cause expensive complications for yourself today if you get too enmeshed in another's financial problems.

R.E.S.P. Act Discussed by OSBORNE's Andy Rogerson

R.E.S.P.A. Sounds like alphabet soup, doesn't it? Actually it stands for "Real Estate Settlement and Procedures Act" and it was passed by Congress in 1974. On June 20th, 1975, it became by law, a part of every real estate transaction and as such becomes of interest to every buyer and seller.

"The law was designed to correct certain abusive practices that had developed in some areas of the country," explains Andy Rogerson of OSBORNE REALTY, "and is applicable here in California. However, our state has been relatively free of these abuses."

Andy goes on to tell us that "the law specifically prohibits 'kickbacks,' the practice of giving or taking a fee or anything of value under an agreement that business related to real estate will be referred to a specific person or organization. This provision assures you of freedom of choice in selecting a lender, a title company, a pest inspection or any other service for fee connected with a real estate transaction. In short 'you are the boss' and have the privilege of shopping around for the best value."

Because the varied parties to a real estate transaction have varied interests, there will be many steps in the process of buying a home which call for caution on your part.

"The real estate Broker," Andy says, "usually provides helpful advice on many aspects of home buying or selling. He is required by law and by his 'Code of Ethics' to treat buyer and seller fairly. He cannot ignore his obligation to the buyer nor to the seller.

"The Broker may, on the basis of his experience, recommend a particular lender or provider for services, but the actual choice of service is yours. Before you sign the contract, be sure the important details of how the purchase price is paid, the time you are to take possession and the status of fixtures and other personal possessions in the home you are going to buy are specifically covered in the contract."

Andy goes on to explain in detail what are the rights of home buyers and how various transactions are completed.

"In some parts of the Country, Real Estate settlements are often conducted by attorneys who specialize in real estate transactions. In other parts of the country, the settlement may be conducted by an escrow or closing agent or the lender, or broker. Their primary concern is orderly completion of all the details called for in the sales contract and in the mortgage committment. Escrow agents are generally used in California for these purposes because they constitute a dis-interested party to the transaction, and can act without bias in the interest of all principals.

"Mortgage lenders, unlike borrowers, go through settlement often and usually are not present at actual settlement. Instead, they spell out in letter form instructions to the escrow agent.

"You, the buyer, will not have a letter of instructions. You will be asked to make a number of decisions in areas in which you may have had little experience.

"You should ask your agent what questions might come up and write them down so you may have time to think about decisions that are important to you. If you have doubts, ask questions. Don't let anyone rush you. There are likely to be lengthy documents to sign at settlement. If you ask, you can usually obtain copies in advance.

"If you feel uneasy about the transaction, you may wish to hire an attorney to represent you. If you hire an attorney, ascertain his fee in advance for his services. Some will quote a flat fee, others an hourly rate, or one based on a percentage of the sales price. The important point is to know in advance how much you should expect to pay for his services.

"The lender's legitimate interest is in making a loan on terms which provide a good yield with little risk. In selecting a lender ask about requirements for property surveys, appraisals, escrows for taxes and insurance and other services. You may compare these requirements with those of other lenders.

"Some lenders will give you the option of shopping among different providers of services, but most deal regularly with certain title companies, attorneys, appraisers, surveyors and others in whom they have confidence and usually want to arrange for provision of all settlement services through these parties as a convenience to buyer and lender. If you wish to bargain directly, discuss this with the lender of your choice.

"Remember also to compare mortgage interest rates, and other terms quoted by various lenders. Do not hesitate to compare pre-payment penalties, if any. A lender may gain through higher mortgage interest rates over the terms of the mortgage, or through pre-payment penalties what they give up at the "front-end" in lower loan origination fees, discount points and other one time settlement fees which must be paid in cash at the time of settlement.

"Feel free to select a lender other than the one recommended to you. It is possible you may find financing more advantageous to you.

"The important point to remember," emphasizes Andy, "is that R.E.S.P.A. was designed to protect the consumer and to implement fair and honest real estate transactions. With rare exceptions, "fair and honest transactions" are the rule, especially in California.

What R.E.S.P.A. has done is to require a 15 day waiting period between the time the purchaser receives notice that his offer to buy the home has been accepted and the day that the sale is actually recorded. This has, in actual fact, proven a detriment to real estate transactions by confusing the buyer, the seller and even the lenders, and, most important, slowing down the sales process. There is a strong indication that the act is about to be either repealed, or at least modified and, hopefully, correcting the detrimental features of the act."

Members of the Pleasanton Del Valle 4-H Club proudly display their skroll which will be part of their dispaly at Koln's Hardware Store on Mafn Street during 4-H Week, Oct. 5 to 11. Clubs throughout the Valley also will be participating with their displays in merchants stores.

'Spirit of Tomorrow' is 4-H week

"Spirit of Tomorrow" is the theme of this year's National 4-H Week, Oct. 5 through 11.

More than seven million 4-H'ers, their leaders and parents will take part in the annual salute to the Head, Heart, Hands and Health program.

Observances by local clubs as well as national, are expected to center on the 1975 4-H bicentennial theme, commemorating the nation's 200 birthday and accenting the history, ideals and goals of the American youth movement now flourishing in over 80 countries.

As in past years, 4-H'ers are planning special recognition events, service projects and recruitment drives in their local communities, counties and states.

National 4-H Week is proclaimed annually by the Cooperative Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H program in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands. Extension professionals recruit, train and assist the nearly 500,000 volunteers who provide local leadership in 4-H activities.

Of the 7.2 million boys and girls from nine to 19 involved in 4-H, more than 3.5 million belong to clubs and groups.

Nearly 900,000 take part in special 4-H nutrition programs geared to lower - income youth and their families. Another 2.5 million are reached by instructional television series like Mulligan Stew and Living in a Nuclear Age.

Although the majority of 4-H members still live on farms and in rural communities, 17 per cent now come from larger urban and suburban areas.

Since its beginnings around the turn of the century, 4-H has offered practical learning and citizenship experiences to millions of young people. Among the most popular projects today are those related to animals, food, clothing, biarts, crafts and music private sector donors lend their endorsement and support to the Extension - support supervised 4-H program through the National 4-H Service Committee and the National 4-H Foundation.

Pleasanton wins safety award

PLEASANTON — The city of Pleasanton has received a pedestrian safety award from the American Automobile Association for its 1975 pedestrian safety inventory program.

The national awards recognizes cities that have made major contributions toward lowering pedestrian fatality rates and improving pedestrian safety.

The award, presented to Walter McCloud, acting director of public safety, noted that Pleasanton had not had any pedestrian fatalities last year.

David Barker of San Ramon 4-H Club receives congratulations from Dale Winer of Hexcel on the trophy he received for his prize winning steer. Hexcel Corporation, Dublin has donated land adjacent to its corporate headquarters to members of the San Ramon Club for raising steer. Joe Skeen, not shown, also won a trophy. David has been in 4-H for 6 years and has won trophies for pigeons and poultry he has raised. He is serving as club president and as a junior leader this year. Joe has been a 4-H member for two years, serves as sargent-at-arms and realized a $22 profit on the sale of his steer.

CARED FOR!
How can I tell? My owner finished my garage, including cabinets. He paved my side access for large vehicles. He put up a nice tool shed. He makes sure I'm cool with cent. air & he built a patio for outdoor comfort. I'm only 2 years old and he is going to sell me for $44,900 on great financing terms. I don't understand how he can do this to me! Call today for more details.

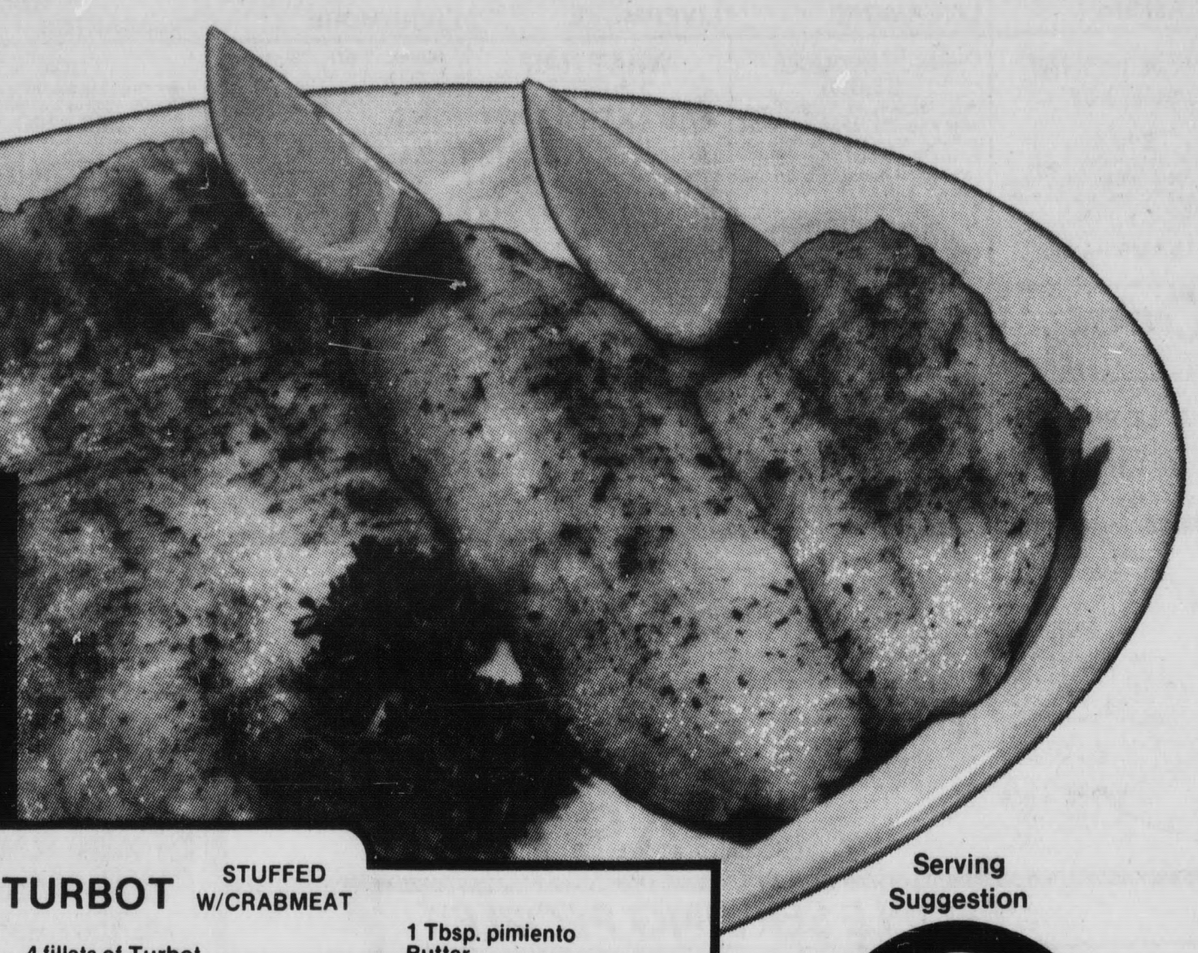
TURBOT FILLETS

Greenland, Frozen
Perfect Pan Fried
Perfect Barbecued
A real taste treat for the whole family's pleasure!

Lb. 77¢



TURBOT STUFFED W/CRABMEAT

- 4 fillets of Turbot
- 3 Oz. of crabmeat
- 1 Tbsp. shallots
- 1 Tbsp. pimiento
- Butter
- Fresh lemon juice
- ½ Oz. Dry sherry

WINE SAUCE

- 3 Tbsp. unsalted butter
- 3 Tbsp. flour
- 6 Oz. Dry sherry
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tsp. salt
- pepper

Prepare sauce, melt butter, add flour stirring constantly, add a little sherry at a time, when smooth and free of lumps add 1 cup of warm milk, add salt and pepper, simmer for 3 min. set aside.
Brush bottom of casserole well with butter on sides and bottom, put a thin layer of Turbot on the bottom toss crab meat over Turbot, add 3 Tbsp. of Wine Sauce, shallots, pimiento, spread gently. Cover crabmeat with remaining Turbot. Brush with butter. Dot w/lemon juice and ½ Oz. of sherry. Bake in 400° F oven for 12 Min. Remove and serve with remaining Wine Sauce.
